Question	Answer
Q6 — Biggest Challenges Facing the Sector & Actions Candidates Would Support	I would assume that the biggest challenges are likely the same as for most everything; funding and support. If my constituents are receiving a concrete benefit from a nonprofit, then it would warrant taking a look at funding on a case by case basis, but it would need to provide real results.
Q7 — Support a Formal, Ongoing Dialogue Mechanism With the Sector (Yes/No + Why)	No — I'm uneasy about granting special access. Every citizen should have equal standing.
Q8 — Support Multi-Year Funding & Longer-Term Partnerships (Yes/No + Why)	No — I don't believe it's healthy for any organization to be reliant on taxpayer dollars, and I'm hesitant to commit taxpayer dollars to something without being able to show a strong return on investment in some form or another. Committing to something years in advance isn't prudent.
Q9 — Ensuring Nonprofits Are Included in Decision-Making	I would not give non-profits, or any other group, special privileges over the voices of my constituents, who are the reason I am running for office. They are, and always will be, top of mind.
Q10 — The City's Role in Supporting Nonprofit Infrastructure	The city has a responsibility to maintain its infrastructure for all of its citizens.
Q11 — The Nonprofit Sector's Role & What Success Looks Like	Success looks like addressing the concerns of my constituents, keeping their tax bills from rising, and providing the services that the city is obligated to provide for them. If nonprofits can play a role, that's great, but it's not something I can control.
Q12 — Other Priorities Candidates Wanted the Sector to Know	My priority is, first and foremost, the taxpayer. I will do my utmost to advance whatever is in the best interest of tax-paying Londoners, while keeping the size and scope of the government as focused and narrow as possible.
Q14 — Commit to Engaging With & Supporting the Nonprofit Sector (Yes/No + Why)	Yes
